Mass for Funeral Directors

Catholic Cemeteries, The Archdiocese of Newark cordially invites you to the annual Mass for Funeral Directors, Cemeterians, and Bereavement Counselors with The Most Reverend John J. Myers, Archbishop of Newark.

Thursday, October 30, 2014, 3:00 pm at the Cathedral Basilica of the Sacred Heart, 89 Ridge Street, Newark, NJ.

Safeguarding Children and Addressing Abuse

The Archdiocese Responds to all Allegations Quickly and Appropriately

In line with Archbishop Myers' personal directive and a Memorandum of Understanding with County Prosecutors, the Archdiocese reports all allegations of sexual abuse of minors to the local County Prosecutor, and cooperates with law enforcement investigations.

Those accused of abuse are temporarily removed from ministry or assignment while investigations are ongoing. If the allegation is substantiated, the removal is permanent.

Since his arrival in 2001, Archbishop Myers has removed permanently from ministry 19 priests against whom allegations were substantiated and who faced penalties under Church law. Only two Archdiocesan priests have been convicted or pleaded guilty to criminal charges involving minors during this same time, and both have resigned or been dismissed from the priesthood. No Archdiocesan priest has been charged with a crime involving minors since 2004.

Baptism Information

Weekend of World Mission Sunday

Today is World Mission Sunday! We are invited today to reach out and help build the Church in Mongolia, the world's youngest Catholic Church, as well as local churches throughout the Missions, in the most remote areas across our world. Your prayers and generous gift to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith in the collection today help the work of priests, religious and lay leaders in Mongolia and throughout the Missions who offer the poor practical help and the experience of God's love and mercy, His hope and peace. Please keep the Missions in your daily prayers. Please be as generous as you can to today's collection. For more information, please visit www.IAmAMissionary.org.

A Letter from the Archbishop

October 12, 2014

My dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

"Today vast numbers of people still do not know Jesus Christ." Pope Francis begins his message for this year's celebration of World Mission Sunday with these words. But he quickly offers us the way to make a joy-filled, life giving difference in this regard. "World Mission Sunday is a privileged moment when the faithful of various continents engage in prayer and concrete gestures of solidarity in support of the young Churches in mission lands."

On October 19, as our Archdiocesan family celebrates this "privileged moment" let us join our brothers and sisters around the world who will gather at the Lord's Table to celebrate, with great joy, our common vocation as missionaries. Our prayers and concrete gestures of solidarity will help build local churches, like the church in Mongolia, the world's youngest Catholic Church, and churches across the globe. Through the work of these churches, and their witness to Christ, the poor receive practical help and experience God's love and mercy, His hope and peace.

Your financial help on World Mission Sunday, offered in the collection for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, will support the 1,150 young mission dioceses and communities who await the "Good News" of Jesus as their saving hope.

Pope Francis encourages us to take joyful part in the Church's mission to all the nations, as we live our lives grounded in love for Jesus and concern for the needs of the most disadvantaged. May World Mission Sunday offer each one of us an opportunity to accomplish both, as we share the joy of the Gospel and help the poor by our fervent prayer and through generous hearts!

With kindest personal regards, I am
Sincerely in the Lord,

Most Reverend John J. Myers
Archbishop of Newark

OCTOBER IS DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH

Beyond the Statistics

The statistics on domestic violence are heartbreaking. According to a 2010 survey conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, one in four women, and one in seven men, have been the victims of severe physical violence by an "intimate partner" (boyfriend/girlfriend or spouse) at some point in their life. Nearly half of all men and women have experienced psychological aggression by an intimate partner. Domestic violence starts early: over half of women and men who have experienced some form of domestic violence were victimized for the first time before they were 25 years old. Domestic violence shatters the peace that should reside in relationships and especially in the family, the domestic church. Bl. John Paul II described the family as the "cradle of life and love." Domestic violence replaces life with harm and even death; it replaces love with anger and fear. It breaks down trust between husband and wife, parents and children. And sadly, it is a cycle that tends to be repeated in the next generation as boys imitate their abusive fathers and girls learn to expect abuse from men.

The Catholic Church's Response: "When I Call for Help"

Behind the sad statistics about domestic abuse are individual persons, men and women made in the image of God. What has been the Catholic Church's response to such a tragic experience for so many people? In their statement "When I Call for Help," which was published in 1992 and reaffirmed in 2002, the US bishops unequivocally rejected domestic violence:

As pastors of the Catholic Church in the United States, we state as clearly and strongly as we can that violence against women, inside or outside the home, is never justified. Violence in any form – physical, sexual, psychological, verbal – is sinful; often it is a crime as well. We have called for a moral revolution to replace a culture of violence (p 1).

"When I Call for Help" remains the touchstone of the Church's response to domestic violence. In it, the bishops address four audiences: victims of domestic violence (predominately, though not exclusively, women), clergy and Church employees, abusers (predominately, though not exclusively, men), and society at large. The statement first provides an overview of domestic violence, defining it as "any kind of behavior that a person uses to control an intimate partner through fear and intimidation" (p 4). Abuse is not just physical (hitting, punching, etc.), but includes sexual, psychological, verbal, and economic abuse. The bishops also identify forced sterilization or abortion as a form of abuse.

The bishops say very clearly that domestic violence can never be justified by Scripture or Church teaching. "A correct reading of Scripture leads people to an understanding of the equal dignity of men and women and to relationships based on mutuality and love" (p 9). They remind victims of abuse that they are not to blame. And to victims who are abused by their spouse, the bishops state clearly that "no person is expected to stay in an abusive marriage" (p 9). In this, they echo the Code of Canon Law, which states, "If either of the spouses causes grave mental or physical danger to the other spouse or to the offspring or otherwise renders common life too difficult, that spouse gives the other a legitimate cause for leaving [i.e. separation]" (canon 1153.1). In the last section of "When I Call for Help," the bishops provide suggestions for action for abused women, men who abuse, and pastors and pastoral staff, who are often "first responders" to a situation of abuse. The statement concludes with a prayer drawn from Psalm 55. "When I Call for Help" is available online at tiny.cc/DomesticViolence
